river or a creek to stifle the noise. Dean died, and fearing detection, according to the police theory, the fiend gave Dickey another dose of the narcotic and stole into the vacant building and locked the children up.

The death trap in which the youths were locked consisted of a rack about four feet high with steps tapering down from the rear. A heavy glass front was across it. The interior was not unlike the underside of a stage case reversed.

Discard Accident Theory

The possibility that the two boys were playing in the store and became entrapped in the case was abandoned by finding of water in Dean's lungs.

Police tonight broadcasted a warning throughout the country, asking that suspicious persons be examined. Playmates of the two slain children will be questioned to learn if there is any man with whom they associated who might have done the deed or if any stranger had been approaching them.

Parents of both lads were near collapse after a hurried inquest today. Motive for the kidnaping and murders is unknown. The place from where the boys were taken is also a mystery.

A public funeral will be held, attended by the hundreds of citizens and children who aided in the search for the little victims.

WHITE WOMAN PAYS AND FLEES

Raided With Negro, Is Fined $100, Disappears

Failing to secure a counsel to represent her, or to make the $500 bond for her appearance in recorder's court Tuesday morning, a white woman booked on the police blotter on a charge of vagrancy after police found her in a house on West Eighth street Thursday afternoon with a negro man, entered a plea of guilty Saturday in recorder's court and was fined $100 and costs by Judge C. N. Ellis.

She paid off immediately, dashed for her high powered car summoned to the city hall before she was haled into court, and was whisked away "for parts unknown," police said. Later she went to her home on West Eighth street, it was reported.

The negro man found hiding in the attic of the house when officers searched the place after breaking in was fined $100 and costs by Judge Ellis when he entered a plea of guilty to the complaint in recorder's court Friday morning. He also was hurried away from the city hall in a car summoned before facing the judge.

NEGRO ASSAILANT HELD
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 31.—Vilho Golden, negro, was under heavy guard here tonight following implication of a recent attack on white

The case, an old one in which the Port Arthur Chamber of Commerce and Shipping is plaintiff against the Texarkana & Fort Smith railroad, was set for hearing here April 2 during a recent session of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Favorable outcome will materially boost the shipping industry from docks here, which, according to the charges made by the Chamber of Commerce, are now controlled by the Kansas City Southern railroad through its subsidiaries.

13 WHITE MEN HELD FOR 'ALLEGED GAMING'

The soft rustle of tens and twenties, aggregating nearly $200, was heard in police headquarters about 12:30 this morning when one of 13 white alleged gamblers arrested a short time previously by Deputy Sheriff John Foote in the 300 block on Sixth street shelled out the green backs to make cash bonds for several of his companions. All the men arrested made bonds for their appearance before Justice of the Peace W. F. James to answer complaints of gaming, the deputy sheriff said.

Border Officers Runners, Gov.

Sensation is Created When Executive in Address Says He can Prove Charges Against Officers

DALLAS, March 31.—Political circles buzzed with excitement here tonight following charges made by Governor Pat M. Neff in an address before the Dallas bar association.

Neff charged that certain law enforcement officers were giving protection to rum runners who were smuggling liquor across the Rio Grande and through sparsely settled western country into the interior, and declared he could prove his charges.

The governor's statements were made during an argument in favor of adoption of the law enforcement bill for quo warranto proceedings to remove delinquent county officers. He severely criticized the Texas senate for its failure to pass the law.

"Bootleggers and lawbreakers have created the erroneous impression that I am seeking the power to remove local officials," said the executive.

"I never thought of such a thing. I merely want officers who protect law breakers tried outside of their home counties."

Key-lock Auto Anti-theft Preventions Fail; Own Secret Markings Best, Says Expert

AND EVEN THEY AREN'T PERFECT

Scheme, Towing of Car, Can't Be Stopped

Automobile insurance companies lower an auto owner's theft premium if he attaches an approved anti-theft device to his car. The companies, in fact, will insure a motorist against theft unless such a device is added.

Despite all inventions contrived to prevent auto theft, however, the number of cars being stolen is greater than ever before. Automobiles have increased in value, and the vigilance of police and insurance detectives has not been effective in stopping auto thefts, however, has the auto owner's own secret markings, but it would be almost beyond human ingenuity to find all.

Some known ways to mark the car for identification are—scratching a mark or name on the inside of the radiator head, inside the headlight rim or at any of a thousand and one points on the chassis and body, each just as secret as the other.

Concealing a calling card in the upholstery may lead to easy identification. In fact, there may be as many such ways of proving ownership as there are auto owners. Chances of destruction of these, in the process of "reforming" a stolen auto, are almost nil.

Secret Ways Best

The solution, therefore, resolves itself to the auto owner's own secret markings. Crooks know most of these, even this knowledge may not help because of the many variations which each preventive measure can be made.

For instance, where lines leading to the spark plugs are about the length, he knows many auto-takes the precaution of switching so that no spark will occur at right time. In spite of this, however, the preventive is much more effective than a marked appliance because of the many different variations in which these cables are switched. It would be some for a thief to find the right combination.

Other precautions just as effective as these are:

Removing some vital part of the ignition system. For example, the distributor brush may be taken out with a knife in a short time.

Attaching a secret fuel line, concealing a knife switch in the ignition system so that when the key is open the current is shut off, crooks might know the cause of trouble in attempting to remove the car, but he might have to give up finding where the opening is in the circuit.

Can't Stop Towing

There is one method in theft, however, that cannot be prevented. That is towing of the car. Crooks have known to bring a garage workshop car to the scene of their theft, up the front or rear wheels and it off—giving an appearance as though the object of their crime was wrecked.

For this reason the motorist should consider his machine liable to theft. And for this reason, one precaution should be taken. It is marking the car so that it can be identified by the real owner. Auto manufacturers have their own markings on various parts of the machine. But every thief knows where to look for them and how to eliminate them.

The only way out, therefore, is the

FLAT TREAD TIRES DESTINED TO REPLACE ROUND TYPES

The trend toward flat treads on pneumatic tires both for passenger cars and motor trucks stands out as probably the most important development in tire construction and design in the last year. A thorough analysis of this construction suggests the question: Why will flat treads eventually displace round treads on all pneumatic tires?

In the first place, a flat tread affords much better traction because of greater contact area. Proof of this statement is easy because it is only necessary to compare the path made by a flat tread and by a round tread as left in mud or snow, according to the experts of the Miller Rubber company.

Tread and ply separation are among the greatest sources of trouble in tire life. Usually the round tread begins to separate at the shoulder. Now if a flat tread replaces the round tread on the same carcass, it can be seen that the flat tread reinforces the tire at the shoulder at the point of greatest strain.

DO NOT FORGET YOUR BATTERY

It's Important, Even If It Is Not Usually Seen

Between eight and ten million owners will be out before long tinkering with their automobiles, cleaning, painting, polishing, overhauling and generally getting the machine into shape for spring and summer trips. Yet, perhaps, after going a thorough job of overhauling, you still find that the engine doesn't perform quite right.

How about the battery? Almost forgot about that, hidden away as it is and requiring so little care anyway. It is about time this small but important organ of the machine received a little attention.

So you hasten to the battery station to look it over and prescribe the necessary remedies. The battery expert you find there soon recognizes it and gives it any further attention necessary and you are soon again on your way. The car certainly seems enlivened with new life.

Carbon Troubles May Be Traced to Leaks Past the Piston Rings

"Do you know what causes the carbon on the spark plugs that gives the owner a regular Sunday morning job of cleaning it off before he can take the family for spin?" asks Albert Perkins, manager of the Motor Service company, 630 Procter. "It is because the oil gets by the piston rings. If the cylinders are not absolutely round, it gets into the combustion chambers and is burned off by ignition, leaving carbon that soon covers the plugs and must be removed to get a hot spark. The only cure for this as well as a lot of other motor troubles is to have them reground."

MOTOR CARS REPLACE CAMELS, INNS BECOME FILLING STATIONS ON WAY FROM DAN TO BEERSHEBA

Traffic Situation Acute With Invasion of the American Made Cars in the Holy Land

BOSTON, March 31.—The registry of motor vehicles of Massachusetts has received a request for advice concerning the regulation of motor traffic in Palestine.

The request for information comes as a result of the traffic situation which developed in the eastern country with the entry of American automobiles.

From Dan to Beersheba the camel and the ass have been supplanted by the motor car. In the roadways of Jerusalem, Samaria, Gaza and other places, known throughout Christendom as filling stations where the condition was brought to light in a letter received by Registrar of Motor Vehicles Goodwin recently from Capt. J. W. Boyer, Jr., of the American army.

Captain Boyer writes that "the situation in Palestine is fast becoming acute due to the ever increasing number of motor cars received here, principally for American tourist business."

Captain Boyer asked that information be sent by Registrar Goodwin regarding the establishment of a bureau, the scale of fees charged in Massachusetts, general rules in force for the regulation of the operation of motor vehicles in towns and the open country, signs, registration and license forms, the new headlight and tail-light laws and any other general recommendations which might assist the director of public works for Palestine.

Motorcycle Given More Road Service Half Time, Says Miller

With a fleet of 12 Harley-Davidson motorcycles as "trouble-shooters," the Chicago Motor club now conducts a job on 25 per cent more emergency calls than ever before.

Not only are the calls handled half the time formerly required, but the fee bill for a whole week's service truck fast bill for one day.

A Harley-Davidson's economy, greater speed and roadability in bad weather and on country roads, and its downright dependability under the punishment of day-in-and-day-out hard usage make it unobtainable for service work by motor club and similar organizations.

This not only proves again that the Harley-Davidson is the most economical motor transportation known for any kind of commercial use that can't be beat, says Miller of the Miller and Houston Cycle company.

DETROIT, March 31.—The majority of the larger factories in the automobile world here have only about a month's supply of materials on hand, and the situation is becoming acute. Steel and rubber especially are hard to get now, and some factories have had to limit their production because of this factor.

Total cost of the League of Nations last year was more than $500,000.

Forty unemployed ex-officers recently volunteered for work as bus conductors and drivers in London.

BUICK NOT TO BE SOLD

On Display Despite Requests From Buyers

PORT, Mich., March 31.—As the Buick Motor Company has come from so many of our dealers and distributors—and dealers as well—it will for the present remain unsold.

Then General Sales Manager E. T. Strong of the Buick Motor Company today disposed of the question as to the ultimate destination of the model 50, a cylinder sport touring car bearing upon its frame the number plate 1922.

H. E. Bassett, now president of the Buick Motor Company, was in 1907 general superintendent of the Wharton-Mott Axle Company, which had a plant adjoining that of the Buick and built all of the axles for the car. In 1914 Bassett became general manager of Wharton-Mott and in 1918, when the latter was merged with General Motors, he became assistant general manager of the Buick. In 1919 he became president and general manager. Thus Bassett has taken a prominent part in the production of all but about 4,000 of the Buick million.

Then there is Cady B. Durham, who was made assistant general manager upon Bassett's acquisition of the presidency in 1919. Durham came to the Buick in the early days as an assistant superintendent of one of the Buick units. Later he was promoted to general manager mechanic, then to general superintendent and finally to his present position.

Some of the other present "key" men worked on the first Buick built after the incorporation of the company in 1908, twenty years ago. One of them worked on the drawings of experimental Buick cars as far back as 1896. He is E. C. Richards, at present research engineer.

William Bancroft, manager of the motor department, built the engine for the first Buick car. At that time the employees of the company numbered less than 100. C. J. Rose, general factory superintendent, has taken a more or less prominent part in seeing through the plant more than 983,000 cars. Chief Engineer E. A. DeWaters came to Buick in 1905 and F. A. Bowers, his chief assistant, shortly afterward, so that the modern Buick car is largely due to development under their guidance. In the ranks there are several hundreds whose service covers a period of more than fifteen years.

In the sales department E. T. Strong, now general sales manager, has assisted in the disposition of more than 900,000 Buicks. He was first employed as a special traveling representative, then as branch manager at Buffalo, Indianapolis and Chicago, respectively. In 1916 Strong stepped into his present position.

AUTO STATISTICS FOR YEAR 1922

Below is a recapitulation of new automobile registrations for the calendar year 1922, which information is authentic and has been supplied by the State Highway Department, Austin, Texas:

Since then, under his direction, more than 750,000 cars, or three-quarters of the total Buick production, have been marketed.

In the field organization throughout the country a similar situation prevails. Practically all the Buick branch managers and distributors have been with the company more than ten years and some of them considerably longer. All of these men have done their "bit" in the achievement of the million mark and naturally are imbued with a high degree of personal pride in the accomplishment.

Linn Motor Co. Spare Parts Department One Of Best in Southwest

The Linn Motor company, distributor for the Ford and Lincoln, have a part department that is a marvel from the angle of completeness and efficiency. Parts are so arranged that anything can be located on a moment's notice. Everything that goes into a Ford, right down to the smallest bolt, is included in this immense parts department.

A few weeks ago the Linn Motor company broke all records in this territory by ordering and having delivered a solid car load of Ford parts, such a large parts department is absolutely essential. There are so many Ford owners in Port Arthur and adjacent territory, and their numbers are increasing so rapidly that the demand is tremendous.

'CHEV.' SECOND IN CALIFORNIA

Sales Six Times That of Two Other Low-Priced Cars

California has for years been among the leaders in motor vehicle registrations. In 1921, it finished the year in fifth place among all the 48 states. In 1922, it stepped out at a faster pace and when the year was over, it had passed both Pennsylvania and Illinois and had advanced to third place with a total registration of 842,003 motor vehicles.

That is an increase over registrations in 1921 of 28.1 per cent, while the national gain averaged much less—only 16.7 per cent.

Chevrolet was largely responsible for this rapid increase. In December 1921, for instance, 1,119 Chevrolets were registered. In December, 1922, 2,070 were registered, or an increase of 85 per cent.

Total car sales in California for December were the second largest in the history of the state, and taking all cars sold and delivered, were 149 per cent greater than in December, 1921. Chevrolet, therefore, ran ahead of competition and of the entire state average by a wide margin.

This is the information received by Philip Inman & Co., 631 Procter, local distributors for the Chevrolet. "But," says Mr. Inman, "they have nothing on us. Our sales so far this year are five times greater than the same time in 1922. And if the present demand continues, and we are certain it will, we expect to deliver 150 cars in the next three months."

Civil War Physician Claims to Be Champ One-Leg Sprinter at Ripe Old Age of 86

YORK, N. C., March 31.—The champion one-legged runner of the south will be on hand to meet all comers at the annual Confederate reunion at New Orleans in April.

He is Dr. W. Edward Erwin of York, physician and Civil War veteran, 86 years young.

His claim to the title is uncontroverted. It is based strictly on his record—that of having raced against all comers since the Civil War and not suffered a single defeat.

Dr. Erwin is as spry as a cat and can make a younger man with two legs exert himself to keep ahead.

He never runs for a wager. "With him the sport is the thing."

He'd rather spend than talk about the Civil War—and that is a subject dear to his heart. He lost his right leg below the knee at the famous Battle of Wagner, Charleston Harbor, in 1863.

When Dr. Erwin races he uses an artificial leg, whittled himself from the wood obtained from the banks of a stream near his home. The limb is so light that he hardly feels it.

A year ago he won an interstate racing match of one-legged Confederate veterans South Carolina against North Carolina, to be pulled off in front of the Mackleburg county court house, Charlotte, N. C. But Dr. Erwin is expecting to run many

A LIGHT BRIGADE SURVIVOR DIES

Thomas W. Shaw, One of Immortal 'Six Hundred'

LONDON, Ont., March 31.—Thomas W. Shaw, who died here recently, is believed to have been the last of the famous "Six Hundred" soldiers who at the battle of Balaklava in the Crimean War made the famous "Charge of the Light Brigade."

A veteran of several wars, he attended the funeral which was held in the residence of his son, Thomas W. Shaw, but the funeral was not military. The simple Church of England service was conducted.

Shaw was 92, having been in his early twenties when with his comrades he galloped into the "Valley of Death" immortalized in Tennyson's famous poem.

The parting with his aged wife, Mrs. Augusta Shaw, the night before his death was a pathetic scene. "You must not die, Shaw," she said. "You have been very good to me. You must not die," she pleaded.

Only one other veteran of the Crimean War still is alive here, Robert Howe. He was not a member of the Light Brigade. Howe is now 88 years old.

Like Shaw and others, he came to London as a British soldier and after confederation with a Canadian militia was established, received a small pension and retired from army life to settle in the new country.

Anything can happen now. In London, an Englishman laughed himself to death at an American movie.

Mexican actress has had a five-year run, but the bandits have had a much longer run than that.

WOMEN DOOMED AS OLD MAIDS

20,000,000 of Them to Be Without Husband, Home

BY MILTON BRONNER
SEA Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1932, By United Press.)

LONDON, March 31.—Nearly 20,000,000 girls and women in Europe today are doomed to die old maids. They are sentenced to sex-starvation; no husband, no home, no motherhood.

It is a situation without precedent in history. It's the biggest human interest story in the world.

Yet governments close their eyes to it, statesmen and politicians ignore it, reporters and authors avoid it. It's too vast to put its aspects—political, economic and moral—fast them to grapple with.

There are 20,000,000 more females than males in Europe today because of the vagaries of the birthrate, the survival of more girl infants than boy babies, the decimation of men by war and the heavier toll of males taken by famine and pestilence.

FUNDAMENTALS OF LIFE INVOLVED.

Those millions of so-called superfluous women are creating questions involving everything of fundamental importance: the capacity and preservation of the home, the social and political equality of women, work and wages, and the next generation's heritage of good or evil.

In the British Isles the superfluous women number 2,000,000. In Russia, 8,000,000.

William Jaenke of Houston, Dr. Walter Fife of Lake Charles was a Wednesday professional visitor here.

Miss Margaret Ritchie and Cora Klemper motored to Lake Arthur and attended to Red Cross work last week.

tered throughout the other countries.

Not only are there no legitimate mates for these 20,000,000 superfluous women but eligible young men are deterred from marrying by lack of work, cuts in wages, scarcity of houses, higher cost of necessities and threats of new wars.

The result is that a spirit of after-the-war recklessness pervades Europe. Men and women alike spend more of their wages, they are more defiant of the conventions and lax in their morals.

The male is supreme. At dances he has six girls to pick from, where formerly he had to compete for a partner. Everywhere you see many girls dancing together; hostesses giving balls have a hard time getting as many men as women.

A new type has developed: the paid male escort. In Paris, in Nice, even in Monte Carlo you see many girls dancing with well-to-do women of middle age while charming girls are wallflowers.

In every class of society girls will put up with almost any sort of a man for the sake of having him to go out with.

To make themselves companionable girls smoke, drink, get and risk other indeliberations.

MORE BABIES BORN OUT OF WEDLOCK.

More children are being born out of wedlock than ever before. In England the increase has engaged Parliament's attention. But the latest official figures show England least badly off in this respect.

Vessels of galvanized iron are not suitable for containing food materials, as many of these have solvent properties on the metal.

Cats are fetching 10,000,000 pounds, and kittens half that price in Kiev, Russia, where mice are causing enormous damage.

CRISIS IN RUHR NEAR IS BELIEF

Germany's Easter, With 22 Dead, a Day of Fear

BERLIN, March 31.—The Ruhr has had its baptism of fire, and tonight, with twenty-two lying dead and sixty injured, advices from the valley show that the crisis in the French occupation had arrived.

Easter in Germany's industrial region will be a day of nervousness and fear—with no telling at what moment the ancient hatred of Prussian for Frenchman and Frenchman for Prussian will flame up.

French today charged they had discovered a new type of super-submarine under construction at the Benz works.

Olm South Realty Spot

Griffing Home was built by John W. Gates many years ago at a cost estimated in the neighborhood of $100,000. It is a beautiful stucco and pointed concrete structure on the Port Arthur highway, easily accessible to anyone by auto, urban or bus line. The house is beautifully situated in a grove of palms and Japanese bamboo trees. Since the Griffings have occupied it they have done much to improve the scenery and landscape of the ground. The house is large and spacious, having 12 or 14 rooms with high ceilings and perfectly modern in every way, with electric lights, sewerage and water. There are several large outbuildings all of the same design and structure that would take care of many automobiles, etc. It has for years been one of the show places of Port Arthur and Beaumont.

Details to Be Worked Out

Should the plan go through as contemplated there are a few details that would have to be worked out. When the Tyrrell-Combest Realty company purchased the 100 acres at Griffing a year ago they decided to give each purchaser of a lot in the addition an equal share in the big Griffing home. The Realty company retained a one-third interest. Under the contract for lots purchased in the addition each shareholder was to be given a chance to say what should ultimately be done with the home. It was contemplated at one time to raffle off the home to all those who had purchased lots. Under terms of the contract two-thirds of the property owners there can determine the disposition of the home.

With Combest willing to donate his one-third, it is felt that the club women could easily secure enough names from other property owners for the other third. Only half of the owners there would be necessary to terminate final disposition.

While the offer is now only in the tentative stage, the club women will go further into it this week. Architect Wignall is to make an inspection of the property.

Magnificent Club Home

If the plan is ultimately put over it will put the club women of Port Arthur five years ahead of their present program. At the Griffing home they would have every opportunity to at once carry on all plans outlined for many years to come.

Should the Port Arthur club women come into possession of the home it is doubtful if there is a club house anywhere in the South that could equal it for the purpose intended.

Harding and Dougherty Shake Hands in Public

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 31.—President Harding probably went out of his way today to demonstrate that there was no friction between him and Attorney General Clegg, by shaking hands with the attorney over the international telephone. Harding was a "candidate" for the position of president in public opinion, and Clegg was a "candidate" for the position of attorney general. The two men had been at odds for some time, and this public display of friendship was a significant move.

Birth on Easter

SIXTY-FIVE MILLION Americans, professing membership in the churches or Sunday schools of the nation, will go to church services today—Easter Sunday. This leaves forty-five millions unaccounted for.

Of these forty-five millions—just a little less than half the population of the country—comparatively few are agnostics or atheists. Most of them are people who through carelessness, or indifference, or diversion, have neglected the religious side of their nature.

Easter commemorates the resurrection of Christ from the sepulchre. It comes in the spring, when everywhere about us the spirit of resurrection is symbolized by nature. It should suggest to every one of us that this is the time for the resurrection of our spiritual natures.

The Christian church is the open door to realization of resurrection. It stands waiting to develop us spiritually. This would be a far better world to live in if all of us were attending church regularly.

Go to church on Easter. You'll feel a lot better if you do. Your soul needs food, too, you must know. Satisfy your spiritual hunger. Go to church.

By Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick
Pastor, First Presbyterian Church, New York

Go to church on Easter!
That is not the whole of Christianity—not by a long sea-mile! Being a Christian extends through seven days every week, twelve months a year, and it affects a man's whole life, from his secret thoughts to his business methods and citizenship.

Because the finest elements in our American life have come from the influence of Jesus Christ, and Easter is the festival of his victory. Because civilization's deepest need is the triumph of real Christianity and Easter is Christianity's rallying-day.

Because this is one of the most spiritually restless generations in human history, and the message of Easter—a victorious spiritual life which can conquer trouble, sin and death—is the message that modern men and women need.

Because you yourself have the old human needs for faith in God, inward power to carry on, and hope of life eternal, and Easter should have a personal message for you.
Go to church on Easter!

YOU AND I

RADIO

Every owner of a radio receiving set should pay a tax or license of say, $5, to cover the cost of broadcasting concerts and to compensate music publishers and song writers whose work is used. You don't agree. Neither do we. The suggestion comes from I. C. Rosenthal, representing the music industry, which finds its income reduced by radio. The sales of sheet music and phonograph records are falling off heavily.

Rosenthal would have the national government collect the tax. That would put radio in politics and probably make the concert law grade. The cost of radio should be footed by owners of radio apparatus and by organizations using broadcasting stations for advertising purposes. They couldn't make better investments. Later, radio will be endowed by philanthropists.

The music industry has grounds for complaint. Nineteen months of music broadcast by radio is said to be copyrighted.

LAUGHING

In a London movie theater, Joseph Chatfield starts laughing at the antics of an American movie comedian. He laughs so violently that his heart stops. He falls over into the lap of the woman sitting next to him. She'll never forget it.

You've heard people talking about laughing themselves to death. This is the first time it ever really happened within our observation. It teaches the danger of doing anything to extremes, especially hitting up to the emotions. Attention, people who allow themselves to blow up in fits of anger.

FLYING

Major Leo G. Heffernan, army flier, read about other fliers breaking speed records. "I got his goat." So he climbed into his own plane at Columbus, N. M., and traveled 75 miles at an average speed of nearly 250 miles an hour. That's the new record. It'll be broken soon.

Again we emphasize that what aviation needs is not speed records but fool-proof planes that can be sold cheaply and used as safely as autos. They're possible, inevitable. The fliers in their enthusiasm are on a side-track, delaying popularization of flying.

PROSPERITY

Men who own steel mills are interviewed in their private offices. They report capacity production, with "the market getting stronger every week." Producers are riling the steel market. High means, demand exceeds supply and buyers are offering bonuses to their bidding against each other.

It's all time to look ahead six months. The businessmen in the market. We hope prosperity. But the ones who are in the market. The ones who are in the market. The ones who are in the market.

Whenever a man accumulates riches and wins for himself a place of eminence it appears that he needs a bodyguard to protect his money and protect his reputation. All this aside, there still is no money for the lawyers and the lawyers have

The Old Home Town

There was a big stir in Jurgensville the time Miss Elberta Brown applied for a place in the school. Miss Elberta was no pretty girl but few women had any confidence in her as a teacher, and it was hinted that she came there to marry and that her mind wouldn't be on the school work. She received an unsigned letter telling her that her plans were known and calling her attention to the propriety of being unduly nice to married men. The day before the date set for the selection of teachers the wives of the trustees talked with their husbands and each wife announced that there would be at least one vote that Elberta Brown wouldn't get. Just before noon on the following day the trustees met in the back end of the furniture store and Miss Elberta was unanimously selected. It was agreed that the vote would be kept secret, and that afternoon each of the trustees wives and friends of the school all right, but thank goodness there was one trustee who didn't vote for her. His husband held out against her to the very last.

When mother returns from a visit to the married daughter, poor pa notices that his supply of weekies has suddenly increased, and in a few days mother lays out a strange shirt for him that is a good fit except that it is entirely too tight in the collar.

The most unpopular man in the neighborhood is the one who refuses to continue lending his tools, just because some of us have allowed his saw to rust, dulled his lawn mower and lost his hatchet.

Cousin Pelfy never complains about his lot. While his preference is to see a house or an iron safe moved he will sit down and watch any kind of work.

The trouble about being two or three installments behind on your davenport is that it makes you shudder to see the furniture wagon coming down the street.

There is always some bad going the rounds. A few years ago it was efficiency and very popular was a people who used hired help.

Mrs. Renfro Funeral Postponed to Monday

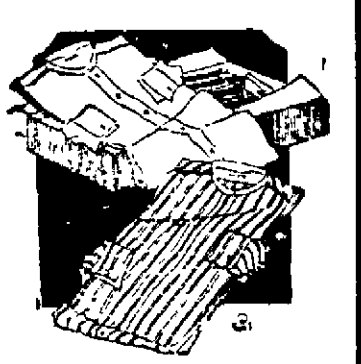

Postponement of the funeral services for Mrs. Sadie Renfro from 3:30 this afternoon until that hour Monday afternoon was announced Saturday following the receipt of messages from relatives stating they are en route to Port Arthur to attend the services.

EASTER SUNDAY

Read Mark 16:1-8.

"He walks down the centuries with the tread of a conqueror."

MEDITATION: It is not the mystery of the resurrection, but the fact that is vital to human life. The ministering Christ is the world's redeemer.

HYMN: Christ the Lord is risen today.

Sons of men and angels say: Alleluia!

Alleluia! Raise your joys and triumphs high.

Sing, ye heavens and earth reply, Alleluia!

PRAYER: O God, who hast called us to be children of the resurrection; mercifully grant that whensoever in the dimness of this present life our eyes are hidden that we see thee not, our hearts may burn with love and always be attentive and faithful to thy Holy Will, as it is revealed to us by thy Son, our Savior Jesus Christ. The House of Your Dreams Must Be Built in a Garden of Dreams

It's not the plan or your house, it's not the money you put into it, it's not the color of paint, nor the number of rooms—the make a home really distinctive.

Most important is the location, the setting, the surroundings. In Grifing's Residential Park Nature has lavished her beauties—trees, shrubbery, and to this is added winding drives, paths, lawns, cement walks, sewerage, water and electric lights.

Misjudice

By J. M. BRADLEY

The guy who says "I don't mind" is a "Yuh know!"

But there is a "Yuh know!" which means "I don't know!"

And that's the "Yuh know!" which means "I don't know!"

Who's coming along, you know what I mean?

"I'm wondering whether you know what I mean?"

This uncertainty will stay on the scene?

I feel like a "Yuh know!" all peppy and keen.

I've just had my "Yuh know!" what I mean?

With rising "Yuh know!" he uses this phrase.

And keeps on repeating it all of his days.

Till, though "Yuh know!" well poised and serene.

I feel I must "Yuh know!" what I mean?

"That girl's a 'Yuh know!'—you know what I mean?"

She says my "Yuh know!" she sure is a queen!

The grass keeps growing—its color is green.

The wind's after blowing—you know what I mean?

So sentence by sentence and time after time.

And whether the "Yuh know!" be "Yuh know!" or "Yuh know!"

This phrase he repeats without reason or rhyme.

This constant "Yuh know!" what I mean?

The guy who repeats "Yuh know!"

With every "Yuh know!" he makes.

Is one that should really be canceled.

But greatest of human mistakes

Is that pesky homo or bimbo or bean

Who ends every sentence, "You know what I mean?"

FAIRY FANTASY CIRCUS OPENER

There's a Catch Question for Chorus Novitiates

There's a catch question among the chorus novitiates who take part in the fairyland fantasy, "Alice in Wonderland," the opening extravaganza of the Al G. Barnes circus, coming to Port Arthur Wednesday, April 4th, and it brings a smile to those who have taken part in the previous productions of the parent. It is: "Are you a good sailor?" and the new girls who answer in the affirmative are apt to be cast for the part of Alice, who sings from the towering howdahs atop the richly robed pachyderms.

For it is no little trick to ride the bearing swaying elephants without becoming seasick. Fact is, the famous ground swell off Point Judith, Narragansett, has nothing on the walking elephant for the slow, rotary rise and fall, the deep set slumps, and so, the new girls leap joyously at the chance to ride the elephants, until they've made two or three rounds of the hippopotamus track. Then they realize the meaning of the stock question, "Are you a good sailor?"

Scouting With the Boy Scouts

TROOP 3

The Sea Scouts held their weekly meeting at their new hut on the Canal bank, formerly the old Greek boat-house, which has been made into a nice hut for us. From now on we will hold our meeting there. Although we had very bad weather (as usual) we had a very good meeting for a certain reason and that reason was that we were going to have a winter roast. We had 16 boys present. The meeting was opened with getting the number for our crew locker. Then came the big time when the skipper got out the weather, and where were we to roast today? It was raining outside. Well, I will tell you. We got a big bucket and built the fire in it, and it sure worked fine. Everyone had plenty, but it was removed that Capt. Eddy was coming to see us, and we were pretty sure of that because he can sure out him in when he draws in. We gave him a warm reception, also some warm wieners that we had roasted for him. He found them fine only he thought they didn't last long enough. Then he told us that you know the Sea Scouts like water, "water, water everywhere but not a drop to drink" so we had to get in a car and go to a bucket of water. When we got to go home it was raining, but we didn't care. We all like water, so out we went. Ever since the meeting we have missed a rubber and we can't figure out which crew put on their car to get home. You know the new Sea Scout uniform is white and the skipper knows where to get them, so better get in on this and dig up in one.

HARVEY WINGLER, yeoman.

Troop 4 had their regular meeting Wednesday at the Franklin school with 17 Scouts present. Because of the weather only half of the troop came out. The meeting opened when Earl Youngblood called it to order. After the calling of the roll, Scoutmaster Smith took a seat in the back and let Earl and Ed Hunt run the meeting. Earl reminded the troop that only boys have not paid their yearly dues, but all four of these boys were present. Mr. Smith then talked to us about a joint hike with Troop 8. The place was not decided upon as the two troops have not had a meeting together. Mr. Smith told us that he wanted to have a little hike before he goes away in the summer. He then told us about our next meeting. He said that just half of our troop was at the meeting so we had better put it off a week. Fats Caughlin has been showing his past week as he got in to see a member of the American Legion. He told us about having our party at their house as we did before. So far so good. He then told us about a new assistant scoutmaster. His name is Lynden Sherrill. He was supposed to come up to our meeting Wednesday, but business kept him away. We hope that she will get off on Wednesday after this. We closed our meeting with a 45 minute swim. We all left for home at 8 o'clock and all agreed that it was a good meeting.

TROOP 6

Troop 6 opened their meeting Friday night at 7 o'clock. The air was as warm as a blanket. This was our election night. Scout Patrol Leader George Bertin called the meeting to order. The Scouts and pledges of allegiance were first and then the scribe with 27 votes. Here again Al-berter took second place with a total of 27 votes. The Scouts were then passed out and all the boys elected the best Scouts and I know that they will make good. Here are the results: Howell first, patrol leader over since Troop 6 was organized a year ago; Allen Halpin, patrol leader, second patrol; Bruce Wattis, patrol leader, third patrol; Milton Quibodeaux, third patrol. A letter Charles LaSalle, Scoutmaster. Then came inspection. Sixteen Scouters and scribe will meet at Scoutmaster Scully's home Sunday night at 7:30 for the purpose of making arrangements for the party to be held April 6th. All Scouts bring your girls for we need them to make this party a success.

The patrols meet at the following Scouts' home this week: Patrol 1, Erwin Langhlin; patrol 2, Arterfield; patrol 3, Joseph Moore; patrol 4, Tom Beadle.

Senior Patrol Leader Bertin announced that we were to have a baseball team, practice to start in the near future. All Troop 6 Scouts must get themselves in good condition as we want to come out on top for the big field meet to be held April 28th.

Sunday all Scouts who have uniforms report to the Scout hut at 7:30 a. m. to live up to the 12th law of a Scout.

LEONARD STANSBERRY, Scribe.

TROOP 8

Troop 8 did not have a meeting for many of the boys were late. He-ter early next week, so that we can have a meeting. Mr. Jack let us go in swimming, and the water was sure fine. Now, Scouts, be at the next meeting as it is to be a business meeting and also to go for a swim. Some time soon our troop will also have a party and we want to plan for this, too.

OLIVER LIPPINCOTT, Scribe.

TROOP 12

Friday night was our regular meeting with roll call at 7:30 showing 20 Scouts present, besides Messrs. Poter and Edwards, troop committee. After roll call we played games while some of the Scouts were passing tests to Eagle Scout Black Pond.

The boys successful in their ten-foot tests were Roy Frederickson, Howard Prewitt and Jack Oulline. Jack also passed four second class tests, we were having a swim at 7 p. m. so be sure to be there, you Scouts of Troop 12.

Mr. Poteet is giving $3.00 for the best five-minute speech, and said all who want to be in this contest to give their names to the scribe. After saying the Scout oath we were dismissed. Those who wanted to go on the baseball team stayed and we elected Clifton Heakes captain.

TROOP 14

Troop 14 had about a ten-minute meeting Friday night, March 30. The troop assembled and Capt. Nick told us about our overnight hike to Village Creek. He also told us that it was better to have a two-day camp instead of a one. Capt. Nick told us boys all to get the equipment and the camp would be on April 27 and 28. He then told us next Friday we would go to the "haunted house."

He told us to meet behind Franklin school at 5:30. Capt. Nick then gave us cards to fill out if we were going on the two-day camp. Capt. Nick told us to meet Wednesday evening of next week to talk about ushering at the Chautauqua. We all fell in then and went over to Franklin school to see our team play Troop 7. The game was very exciting and everybody like it. Especially the boys of Troop 14. Everybody must be at the Coast of Hawaii on the 12th to see us get the cup, because we lost Troop 7 for the Scout championship of Port Arthur.

LOCAL LEAGUE GOVERNED BY STRONG RULES

Opening Date Set For April 16th

With the meeting of enthusiasts held last Thursday night, baseball swung into a more certain orbit for Port Arthurians, and the City League, officially termed that way at the last conference, will start its season on the old sand lot on Lake Shore Drive, April 16.

The schedule, which appears in the adjacent columns, calls for a series of 60 games to determine the city champions. No Sunday games are called for, and likewise omission is made of paydays, Saturdays, holidays and the opening date of the Exporter season at Beaumont.

The rules, adopted at the conference, Thursday night, follow:

Rule 1. Teams to be limited to 18 players. Who have signed an agreement to play with that particular team until properly released. A list of players, signed up must be furnished the secretary prior to opening games. No player shall be eligible to transfer from one team to any other team in the league until five days after written notice has been furnished the league.

Rule 2. Players on one team are not eligible to play on other teams in the City League as substitutes; failure to observe this rule shall forfeit a game. Players are confined to the industry whose team is in the league with the exception of the City team, and it shall use no player who is a non-resident of Port Arthur without the consent of the executive committee.

Rule 3. Managers must see that all players are in uniform when possible.

Rule 4. Five innings shall constitute a game.

Rule 5. Seven innings will be considered the regular length of each game, starting at 5 p. m. If desired, more or less can be played, but only upon agreement of the managers of both teams and the umpire. Should a game not be ready to play by 7:30 p. m., that team shall forfeit the game.

Rule 6. Each team will provide one coach or spaulding official baseball at the start of scheduled baseball.

Rule 7. The umpire's ruling must be respected and taken as final, and managers of the teams are requested to instruct their players. Evident errors in judgment which proves the deciding factor in any game may be appealed to the executive committee.

Rule 8. The executive committee shall be composed of a representative of each plant or community with a team in the league, with the president to make the fifth member to handle all appeals or appeals from rulings of the umpire.

Rule 9. Nominal admission charges can be collected to defray the expenses of the teams.

Rule 10. Any addition or amendment to the above rules can be made by the executive committee.

Indian Ghost Flits By Side of Racer On Louisiana Track

NEW ORLEANS, March 31.—Does the phantom of an old Indian, who died of a broken heart, flit about the race track breathing assurance into the ear of Black Gold, one of the sensations of this year's racing, because that cause the game little horse to leave his contenders trailing in the dust?

Here is the story as it is told in the world of hoofbeats and is believed by thousands of men and women who back their choice of horses with their greenbacks:

Some years ago a familiar figure on the turf was a pure-blooded Cherokee from Oklahoma, who discarded his aboriginal moniker and substituted therefor the rather prosaic name of H. M. Hoos. Many a fast pony he had picked up on the plains, entered against the blue bloods of the turf. Sometimes he brought his favorite little horse under the wire a winner, but it was seldom.

Then fortune smiled on Hoos. He came into possession of a little mare whom he called Uccit. If ever an equine princess got better care than Uccit, it was because such care was beyond the reach of the pocketbook of Hoos.

The Indian spent almost his entire life with the little mare. He talked to her in her Indian tongue and she seemed to understand. He slept in the stable with her every night for fear some illness might overtake her while he was away, some enemy might try to dope her or, worse still, there might by chance be a fire and Uccit would perish. His love and devotion to the little mare soon brought results. She was as fleet as the wind and she had almost an uncanny ability to get away from the barriers ahead of her opponents and leap over against the rail for the advantage that every jockey seeks.

Then a terrible thing happened. Hoos entered Uccit in a claiming race, under the rules of which any horse in the contest may be bought at a certain figure. It never occurred to Hoos that he might lose Uccit.

Little mare showed a tremendous burst of speed and flashed under the wire an easy winner. Hoos was "claimed." Hoos was wild with grief. He thought of parting from his favorite. He attempted to buy off the purchaser, but the man was obstinate. And when he learned that he must either give up Uccit or racing, he took Uccit with him back to his home, barred forever from the turf.

Hoos, with his favorite mare, Grief, finally brought the big Cherokee to face with death. He carried her to his grave.

Open are no more when first the ground that they may start with the fingers.

Branch Rickey Shows He Is Strong for College Men In Ball; Has 3 New Faces

Lad From Rice Institute Looks Good on Diamond. Two Others Chosen By the Famous Leader

BRADENTOWN, Fla., March 31.—Manager Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Cardinals is strong for college men.

The man who discovered Goose Sisti, helped develop his as a star at University of Michigan, and brought him to the St. Louis Browns, likes the high-brow athletes.

It is a rather interesting fact that the three most promising recruits on the Cardinals team are collegians. One of the trio looks ready to step right in and play big league ball, the other two are not very far away.

Roscoe Holm, former Iowa State star, is one of the best looking recruits in a long time. Holm handles himself like an experienced ball player. He has an awkward, yet easy, style that reminds you something of Hans Wagner. At the bat he steps into the ball beautifully and should be able to hit.

Holm is certain to be retained by Rickey as understudy to Lavan and will surely keep the doctor stepping on him in the background.

Howard Friegeau of Ohio Wesleyan, the alma mater of Manager Rickey, is another capable performer. Friegeau is being used in the outfield. It is said that he made a favorable impression on Manager Rickey as a sophomore at Wesleyan and the Cardinal manager immediately tied him up to report on graduation.

The other member of the "Rah" "Rah" trio is Edith Dyer of Rice Institute, Texas. In college Dyer was a whole of a pitcher. When not pitching he played the outfield because of his batting and speed.

Mickey is of the opinion that Rice has too much promise to be merely used as a pitcher, say every fourth day. He has notified the Texas that he is to play the outfield exclusively.

The Cardinal manager is very keen on his trio of college stars and he is positive each will make good within the next two years. In case injury or "finesse" overtake Lavan, Holm will play the position.

In the Boston game, which the Cardinals won, 4 to 3, Dyer saved the game by a diving catch that would have done credit to Spaulding. It took baseball instinct, more than a college education, to make the play. It required courage and quick thinking. As he came up with the ball Manager Rickey, on the St. Louis bench, fairly shouted:

"That fellow is a sure enough big leaguer. You can't keep that kind of spirit down."

It certainly looks as if Rickey had picked up three future stars in Holm Dyer and Friegeau.

Shifting Batting Style Successful

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 31.—Is it possible to shift a player's batting style after he becomes a big leaguer and have it work out successfully?

Manager Wilbert Robinson of the Brooklyn Nationals is convinced that it can be done.

When Bernie Neis came to the Dodgers in 1929 he was a right-handed hitter and seemed to have much promise. However, he failed to hit up to the desired standard.

Neis clearly showed that he could cover plenty of ground and excelled as a fielder. It was believed that if he shifted from the right to the left side of the plate he might be able to take advantage of his great speed in getting down to first base.

Neis was converted into a left-handed batsman, though as a rule he shifted back to the right side of the plate when batting against "outlaws."

Neis met with indifferent success after changing his batting style. Last season he batted only .229, which is hardly enough for an outfielder slated to take the position held down by Hi Meyer, who hit nearly 100 points better.

Manager Robinson is convinced that Neis is not cut out to be a left-handed hitter. He has instructed him to hit only from the right side of the plate.

This is pleasing to Neis, who never was very strong for the left-handed bat. He says he will jump his average to at least .300 this year if allowed to hit all his batting right.

'NO SMOKING' RULE OF HALL IN CLEVELAND

Boxing Exhibited There Also Tame

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 31.—An evening of boxing in the Public Hall here presents a spectacle well worth going far to see.

The boxing itself isn't of the caliber to become madly excited about; in fact, it is rather second-class. This is due, of course, to the municipal ruling which permits amateur bouts only. So that the boys who mix it are unknown outside of Cleveland.

But outside from that—caramba!! Public Hall is one of the biggest things of its kind. At one far corner is a magnificent stage, a really huge thing. Here a jazz band plays. The floor, with the ring in the center, is immense, and above its sides and rear rise in graceful loops a majestic balcony, so spacious that the corners were back almost lost in shadows. The entire auditorium is said to seat 15,000.

No smoking is permitted, and a liberal supply of bluecoats are on hand to enforce the ruling. Very little of the usual yelling, so closely associated with boxing matches in the past, may be heard. Spectators vent their passions with mild hand-clapping.

It is as easy to get your correct seat as one of these shows—and any prize fight fan will appreciate this as it is at any legitimate theatrical production.

In other words, Cleveland now has the best hall for boxing matches, and the best manner of handling them, as it is in any city in the country, those who have been there declare.

Fort Worth . . . 010 020 000-3 8 0

Browns 5; Cats 3

FOOT WORTH, Texas, March 31.—A home run by Ken Williams with two on bases gave the St. Louis Browns the second game of the series here today, 5 to 2.

The Panthers were leading 3 to 2 in the seventh inning when Gerber and Tobin were passed with two out. Williams drove the ball into the right field stands.

Fort Worth scored twice in the sixth inning when Stelbueck, batting for Colvin, hit a homer with one of the Panthers on.

Score:
St. Louis . . . 0-0 000 300-5 9 1
Fort Worth . . . 010 020 000-3 8 0

Yanks Lost First

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 31.—Hard hitting of the Brooklyn Robins and the wildness of Joe Bush, caused the New York Yanks to lose the first game of their exhibition series, 5 to 4.

NEW YORK, March 31.—Jack McCalliff hit, Detroit heavyweights, but not accepted by Luis Firpo, South America, as his opponent in the numerous "milk fund" so he stayed on the Yankee Stadium, he said here today.

"Although the commission may approve of McCalliff, I have not accepted him as an opponent," Firpo said. He was backed also in the statement by Jimmy De Forest, his trainer.

Langford Floors Kid Savage for "Count"

MEXICO CITY, Mex., March 31.—Sam Langford, the famous old negro boxer, knocked out "Kid" Savage in the first round of their fight here this afternoon. The fight was scheduled to go to a finish, and it was early.

Only one minute and a quarter of the first round had been completed when the veteran "Boston Tar Baby" crashed over a right uppercut to the jaw of the young California negro and he went down for the count.

GIANTS 9; SOX 1

DALLAS, Texas, March 31.—The New York Giants swamped the Chicago White Sox, 9 to 1, in a one-sided slug fest here today.

Slow, Careful Drivers Best On Race Track

Huston Says Few Autoists Know How

By ROY HUSTON
What would you do if you were on the track in a big race for stakes, speeding on through dust and wind, and space in a powerful race car?

Roy Huston, of the Smith-May Motor company, is a local boy who has driven race boats for some time, and who will probably be among those to enter the field of drivers when the Port Arthur Speedway opens this month, tells his own story about the track in a series of articles written especially for the News. Here is the first one:

"Racing is a profession. Every person who can drive an automobile cannot drive a racing car.

"A man might be an unusually good driver around town and on crowded streets or country highways; but when you place that same man on the race track, the chances are he couldn't stand the grind.

"There are few men who can, perhaps the percentage might be one in every thousand drivers.

"The slow and most careful drivers in private life turn out to be the best race drivers; and on the other hand, you can always find, with very few exceptions, the race driver very careful when driving a car in the city.

"To be a good driver of race cars, you must first 'know' your car. You must know just what your motor will do; just how fast you can operate it and keep it intact. You must know how your car is balanced, and how fast you can take the turns in safety. There is great danger in attempting to negotiate a turn on the corners of a race track faster than the car is built to 'take' it.

"Factory-made race cars of the present are constructed by men who know racing; consequently, the majority of race cars 'come out' perfectly balanced.

"The knowledge of knowing how fast a car can 'take' the curves is a great asset to the driver. This one feature of racing cost two men their lives on the Gulf Coast Speedway recently. Both knew their cars were of insufficient strength and durability to 'take' the curves as fast as others on the track; but both drove pell-mell around the corner and into death because they did not heed the warning of their own machines.

"Most any driver can get in a car and open it up, most any driver can keep that car open and try to finish in a race. But only the foolish driver stays on the track when he realizes his car 'cannot' stand the grind."

GASSERS CHECKED

SHREVEPORT, La., March 31.—The Shreveport Gassers were shut out for the first time this season today by the Columbus Senators of the American Association. Seven errors by the locals weighed heavily in the tallying of the eight runs by the visitors.

Manager Ira Thomas, today announced acquisition of four players under option from the Milwaukee team of the American Association. It is understood that Milwaukee recently refused $2,500 for Outfielder Simmons, one of the quartet.

CARDINALS WIN

THOMASVILLE, Fla., March 31.—The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 3 to 2 in an exhibition game here today. The Cardinals jumped on Naylor for three runs in the opening frame. The American Leaguers countered with a pair, and then both teams satisfied themselves with threats to score for the remainder of the game.

A double by Hornsby—his only hit of the game—scored two of the three runs for the Cardinals.

Troop 14 Cops the Scout Court Prize With Second Win

The cup which will designate the champions in basketball of the Port Arthur Boy Scouts will be awarded to the Scouts of Troop 14.

That was a definitely established fact following the game Friday night in Franklin gym, when the Scouts in Troop 14 conquered those in Troop 7 by the score of 19 to 5 in another lopsided affair. It made their second win and settled the contest.

Akey, forward on the Troop 14 line, threw the majority of the pointers for his team. He got five tallies, four of which were field goals. LeBlanc, another forward, threw three field goals, while Hoag, center, hurled off two. Morgan, guard, Troop 7, threw the only field goal allotted to the boys in 7, and Barbay made the rest of the pointers with free throws. He got three of them.

The cup, a silver trophy given by Banker Craig, will be awarded the winner at the Court of Honor April 13.

Coach Smith reported considerable progress among his own track team, while it was learned 30 players have responded to the call for the team ball this season.

HE'S COMING BACK

PARIS, March 31.—George Carpentier, one-time idol of France, is the first step in his campaign to come back here today when he challenged the heavyweight of France, Nilles.

Carpentier, who has not been in the ring since he was knocked out last year by Bartling Siki, said he considered Nilles as only a good warm workout to help him in his training for an extensive summer season.

Elsie Ferguson has an ideal star from the depths it sweeps to the heights and then back to still more poignant levels. It is more sensational in emotion than action, but near the end there is a thrilling plunge from the start, the story grips one with an intensely little short of breathless.
